Hi Julie

As discussed, I'd be interested in your expert opinion about what the 'log in' and 'log out' details mean in the attached - I assume it would be log ins/out to Facebook generally and not to a particular page. In any case, they don't seem to go back far enough for the current investigation. For an investigation that is less historical, the lack of log ins/outs may be the only thing that is determinative...

Also, as discussed, I'll test out the "download your information" function over the weekend.

Kind regards

Louise
