On second thoughts, we received a bounce back from APH from the wrong Laming email address so I wonder whether that means [REDACTED] is still employed at APH? I've added the word 'current' below but grateful for any thoughts. Perhaps, as an alternative, we try what Alex suggested and call the APH switch when Parliament is next sitting...

How about this for an email for Andrew to send to david.desilva@finance.gov.au:

Dear David

I am writing to enquire into whether the Ministerial and Parliamentary Services Division is able to provide information regarding how to contact [REDACTED] advisers.

The Australian Electoral Commission has reason to believe that Dr Laming [REDACTED] [REDACTED] has information and documents relating to assessment of compliance with section 321D of the Commonwealth Electoral Act 1918. Her email address [REDACTED]@aph.gov.au was provided to the AEC by [REDACTED] as being connected to an account of interest. [REDACTED] did not respond to our email seeking confirmation of receipt of the notice under section 321F of the Electoral Act within time. Could you please advise whether you are able to pass on her contact details?
