Thank you for confirming your availability for this meeting in February as the taskforce works towards the next federal election. The EIAT is planning a meeting with each of the online platforms early in 2025 and, although an agenda has not been finalised, we can provide the following as an initial guide.

- * Potential timing of FE25, if not already announced
- * AEC's role in the current information environment – education campaigns, activity on social media
- * AEC's observations from global elections in 2024 and what that may mean for Australia
- * X update
- * Changes in policy settings
- * Confirmation of referral and escalation pathways
- * X's own observations from elections globally in 2024

Please also feel free to forward this invitation to other X colleagues as you see fit.

Subject: Request for a meeting with the AEC's Deputy Electoral Commissioner in Singapore in September [SEC=OFFICIAL]

Good morning s47F,

I hope this email finds you well.

The AEC's Deputy Electoral Commissioner, Jeff Pope, and Assistant Commissioner of the Electoral Integrity and Media Branch, Matt Haigh, will be in Singapore for a conference from Tuesday, 24 September to Thursday, 26 September.

Mr Pope would like to arrange a meeting with you on one of those days to discuss what X may have learned from global elections this year, in preparation for the (yet to be announced) next Australian federal election. Although both he and Mr Haigh will be at the conference for the three days, he will prioritise a meeting with you on one of these days based on your availability.

I would be grateful therefore if you could advise if this works for you and what time would suit.

Kind regards,

s47F | Assistant Director
