Enquiry details

A trans-gender male to female person Divvi De Vendre has lodged an application to establish a political party "the Australian Women's Party". Whilst I have no objection to any individual starting a political party this name was already used some time ago and may confuse women like myself who would think it was the old party reactivated. I think another name should be used. the previous founders of the Australian Women's party have no connection with the proposal by Divvi De Vendre. Can you please let me know if this is legal to use the name of a prior party.
